OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

"ORCHARD CITY" WAS the designation placed on the seal of the City of Campbell when this community was incorporated in 1952.

Such designations are a necessary part of the incorporation rigamarole after the citizens vote to become citified.

You might say it becomes part of the brand name from then on to eternity.

Ordinarily the city designation that is used when the city officially incorporates will stand the test of time.

This is particularly true of those cities that sort of tie in with their location as "gateways" and that sort of thing.

Locations hardly can change, if you know what we mean.

A city that uses a location of a particular well-known attraction in its official "trademark" is pretty sure that it will not go out of date.

That is not so, of course, for such descriptive "nicknames" as "orchard city" or some others that we can think of.

"Orchard City" no longer seems to describe our community.

Simply because there doesn't seem to be any orchards around any more.

WHAT BROUGHT THIS to mind, of course, was the denuding of 34-acre Brynteson Ranch at Campbell Ave. and Bascom this past week.

As long as the Brynteson Ranch and the Gomes (on Hamilton) Ranch were in existence, we suppose by stretching a point or two, calling Campbell the "orchard city" could be justified.

Those two ranches meant that something like 60 acres within the city limits were devoted to walnuts or fruit.

There were many other acres during the last decade within the city limits on Budd, Virginia, Campbell and other thoroughfares that would justify the label of "Orchard City".

But not any more.

AS WE SAW THE TREES being dragged out by their roots, piled in stacks then burned, we must admit that we were saddened by this activity.

Oh, we know that this is progress, at least we think so.

We know that for years people have wondered just what was going to happen to that Brynteson Ranch.

The property is located in such a key spot in the community that its development affects much more than just the area around it.

We have long wondered just what would happen when the trees were taken out.

Now we are about to find out.

But, you know something, we don't think there should be any dancing in the street.

In our opinion, that property looked far better with trees than it does in its stark nakedness or barren state.

On the other hand, apparently exciting things are about to happen to the property.

So what are a few trees in face of progress?

The trouble is that we like trees.

We hate to see them removed.

-0-

OF COURSE, OUR POINT originally was to stage a campaign to try to find a more suitable descriptive designation for Campbell than "orchard city".

But it is hardly worth the effort.

There are not enough orchards remaining within the city limits to concern a self-respecting fruit fly.

The Gomes property on Hamilton gives the impression of a golfer just waiting to tee off.

The trees in that once-flourishing orchard give the dejected appearance of just waiting.

For what, we don't know.

But, we think you will agree that "orchard city" no longer can possibly describe

Famed local orchard bows to progress

People of course, knew it was going to happen. Eventually.

Or even sooner, if the price was met.

Reportedly to be something like a million bucks, give or take a few dollars.

For progress is the name of the game.

But still when the "cats" moved in last week and efficiently "denuded" the 34-acre Brynteson Ranch at E. Campbell Ave. and Bascom Ave. of all its trees in a matter of hours, it was all sort of sad.

Those trees had been there quite a spell.

And there are not many orchards in "Campbell, the orchard city" any more.

There was always sort of a glamorous legend hovering around the Brynteson Ranch, allegedly owned for many years by a Swedish tycoon who, it was claimed, liked to visit it when he came to this country but had no intention of ever selling it.

But then again people don't live for ever. Even in Sweden.

And heirs to an estate generally look at things in a different light.

There has been no official announcement as yet what the major development will be on the choice property by the new owner.

But on Monday, March 18, the Planning Commission has scheduled a public hearing on the application of Fred Sahadi for a use permit for a service station to be located at the northwest corner of E. Campbell and Bascom.

Sahadi is the owner of the multi-million dollar "Cardiff Affair" apartments on Union Ave. and a partner in the plush mobile home park adjacent to it.

HIT BY TRAIN--A Campbell woman, Mrs. Lillian Grimm, 59, of 597 E. Hawthorne Ave. is lifted on to a stretcher after she was hit by a moving train at Southern Pacific's East Campbell avenue grade crossing. According to the police report the woman was apparently preoccupied and did not hear the engine's whistle or the warning bell and walked directly into the path of the train. She underwent surgery at Valley Medical Center where her condition is listed as "poor". No complaint has been filed against the train's engineer who was unable to stop the 20 ton engine in time.

Storm drains beat estimate

Nine bids for the storm drain project on Campbell Ave. were submitted on Tuesday. They ranged from $147,000 to $200,000.

In contrast to the bids submitted in August and rejected by the Council, the low bid this time was lower than the engineer's estimate.

If the Council awards the contract next Monday, construction should be started by May, according to Bill Wren, public works director.

Next Monday night

City Council to set parking limit on Winchester; act on storm drain bid

Newly-improved Winchester Blvd. from Campbell Ave. to Rincon Ave. on the east side will probably get a 40-minute parking limit by City Council action next Monday, March 11 at the Council meeting.

What could also be the first step in the long-awaited development of downtown Campbell Ave. could also be made at the Council meeting Monday.

The Council is scheduled to take action on the awarding of bids for the storm-drain project on Campbell Ave. from Third St. to Los Gatos Creek.

This is the second time bids have been submitted for the job.

All were rejected as being too high the first time. Bids were opened and tabulated Tuesday afternoon in the city clerk's office.

Since the street was widened and improved, parking has been allowed on the east side. West Valley College students have hastened to take advantage of the situation, according to city officials.

Therefore, to eliminate all-day parking by college students, the 40-minute time limit has been recommended.

The perennial parking problems in town that are caused by the college students will probably be discussed also under another agenda item next Monday.

In December at a joint meeting with the college trustees, the Council asked that the college explore the possibility of leasing part of the Gomes property for parking.

The item was placed on the agenda for a report on the latest development in that field.

The City Council next Monday is expected to give first reading to the new street tree ordinance that was modified at the last meeting. Final approval is also expected to be given by the Council to the zone change request for property on Budd Ave. where a retirement home is planned by the Christan Science Church.

Planners okay duplex zoning on Virginia Ave.

By a unanimous vote the Planning Commission on Monday night approved the zone change request (R-1 to R-D (duplex) for property on S. Virginia between Hacienda and the extension of Bucknam avenues.

Submitted by Robert Meyer and associates it marked the third time that the property had been before the Commission for zone change purposes.

But in sharp contrast to the previous two times, it was all sweetness and light Monday night as the residents in the adjoining single-family subdivision presented no objections to the proposed development.

Originally the Planning Commission had approved a town-house development for the property despite the protests of the residents.

The application was withdrawn before hitting the City Council.

On the second go-around at the Commission level, the application for the town house plan was denied and the City Council upheld the Commission on the appeal.

Residents in the area had indicated previously that there would not be any objections to duplex zoning as long as the development remained one story buildings.

However, a zone change request initiated by the city for property at 75 N. Harrison, owned by Ray Stroppa, lost on 5-2 vote of the Commission.

Although the commissioners felt that it was practical to rezone the property on Harrison to correspond with the other zoning on the street, they did not want to take any zoning action that could possibly penalize the property owner.

Commissioner Thayer Lyons vigorously defended Stroppa's right to be in business. He voiced concern tha the zone change might allow the city to move Stroppa out, as for the past three years Stroppa had not paid a busi-

Commission reverses first vote to deny zone-change

In a dramatic reversal of a previous unanimous action, the Planning Commission on Monday night, after two hours of discussion and by a split 4-3 vote, put a controversial zone change matter right back where it all started more than two months ago.

Actually it took two 4-3 votes before Lowell Grattan, local developer, seeking a zone change for property on the south side of W. Latimer at Llewellyn adjacent to the expressway, found himself right back where he started last year.

He had appeared twice before both the City Council and Planning Commission during the last two months on behalf of his application to have the property zoning changed from R-1 (single family) to R-2-S (multiples).

On January 2, the Planning Commission unanimously (Kel Young was absent) approved Grattan's zone change request.

When it hit the City Council for the first time on January 22, the matter was continued to Feb. 12 because residents in the adjacent areas protested that they had not been informed on the request.

On Feb. 12, a petition containing 278 signatures of protest was presented to the council by the residents in opposition to the zone change. The Council referred the matter back to the Planning Commission for action on Monday.

Residents of Llewellyn Ave. and adjacent streets packed the Council Chambers Monday night and reiterated their objections to the zone change.

Only Grattan, Frank Messina, of 540 W. Latimer, longtime owner of the property in question and a spokesman for merchants in the Campbell Shopping Center, (Latimer at Winchester), spoke in favor of the zone change.

All the others who spoke at the meeting, took turns repeating the same basic charge. They objected to the fact that Grattan was not submitting a definite plan for development. Everything was too indefinite, they claimed, and they felt that P-D (planned development) zoning would be better because the developer would have to submit a definite plan for all the property.

Wilbur Clarke, 99 Llewellyn, led off the opposition. He was followed by Jack Lee, 42 Llewellyn; Tony Gil, 161 Llewellyn; Dale Naragon, 125 Llewellyn; Paul White, 133 Llewellyn; Mrs. Edward Cargill, 435 Kings Court and Dale Hume, 463 Queen's Court.

After more than one hour of open discussion from the floor, it was the commissioners turn to get into the act.

Jack Healey, former commission chairman, gently chided the citizens for their selfishness. He explained that, although they claimed they were community-minded, most people were really not concerned about any matter except their own neighborhood.

He added that the commissioners were aware of this but they were forced to act for the entire community and not any one segment.

He said the citizens had indicated that they desired to put the entire burden on the developer which was not fair. And he emphasized that the commission's experience had shown that PD was not the answer to the zoning problems of the city.

After the commissioners all had their say, Thayer Lyons brought the matter to a head with a motion to return the request to the City Council with the original recommendation that the property be zoned R-2-S as requested by Grattan. Young seconded it.

But on the vote only Healey sided with them and the motion went down 4-3 with Dean Chamberlin, Merrill Grim, Ed Pack and Chairman Frank Klein all registering a complete reversal of thinking from their original vote in January.

After this first vote, another half-hour slipped by in the discussion over what the DONNA WON'T YOU BLOW YOUR HORN?--Mrs. Donna Perry, of the Campbell Police Department, holds a trumpet which will go on the auction block this Saturday, March 9, with a large collection of bikes and other property recovered by the Campbell police and unclaimed by their owners.

The local police hold semi-annual auctions to dispose of the unclaimed items. Although bikes always dominate the auction picture, there are always other articles on tap. This time it's the trumpet and case.

The auction will begin at 10 a.m. in the parking lot at the rear of the City Hall, 75 N. Central and will be under the direction of Police Captain Don Burr.

2. The city council review the planned development zoning ordinance to determine if the ordinance meets the needs of the city in the downtown area.

3. Continue to work with Green Valley Disposal Company for service in the best interests of the community, particularly in relation to noise disturbance in or near residential areas.

4. Expand the public information program of the city to improve communication with the public.

B. STREETS, TRAFFIC, SAFETY & TRANSPORTATION

Recommendations:

In that public transportation is a must, the following recommendations were made:

1. Contact transportation companies to have signs posted with bus schedules at bus stops.

2. Have schedules placed at some of the local merchants, Chamber of Commerce, and possibly covered in the local newspaper as a public service.

3. Proceed with transportation plan of Mrs. Brannon to see if such a plan can be set-up in Campbell.

4. City to consider a shuttle bus for local transportation, subsidized by local merchants and/or shopping centers.

Streets & Safety

1. Recommend active annexation program by the city, whereby improvements in streets and sidewalks in areas where small parcels of unincorporated areas make any improvements unfeasible at this time.

2. City notify School District prior to setting up budget, so the schools can make their proposals and requests regarding adult school crossing guards.

3. City and school initiate a more aggressive training program for student crossing guards.

General

1. People who were in attendance agreed to bring their friends and neighbors next year to get more of a voice of the general public.

C. DEVELOPMENT - INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL

INDUSTRIAL:

1. We recommend a separate committee be formed by the Chamber of Commerce made up of existing industrial businesses for the purpose of obtaining recognition and promoting better business climate.

2. We recommend that everything possible be done to improve access to and from our industrial areas, especially the Camden-San Tomas interchange.

3. We recommend that the Telephone Company include Campbell in the existing San Jose Enterprise exchange system.

4. We recommend that the City of Campell underground utility ordinance be reviewed.

5. We recommend that further studies be made of the Los Gatos Creek and other eyesores with the objective of eliminating them.

COMMERCIAL:

1. We recommend the approval of the downtown core concept with adequate protection of the area by zoning and the possibility of including adequate parking within this area.

2. We recommend that the citizens of Campbell develop a theme to help promote the identity of downtown Campbell.

3. We recommend that the Planning Commission and the City Council give their continued careful study to preserve the quality of development on Hamilton Avenue.

D. SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT & OPPORTUNITIES

Recommendations:

1. Some of our elementary school districts are now planning a child care center within their school district to make it possible for low income mothers to work and/or get training for jobs. We endorse their efforts and encourage their continuance and recommend to other districts to include this program in their planning. We further recommend that West Valley College students who are preparing for careers in education or Social Service be used in these programs.

2. Upgrade our recreation program with school districts taking a more active part in providing facilities, particularly during the off-school months and particularly making those facilities available to transient families. That in the case of low income people these recreation services be offered free of charge. That volunteers be given the opportunity to help man the programs and provide transportation to the recreation centers.

3. That a central core clearing agency or a multi-service center be established in order to better coordinate the many services which are offered to the low-income people and all who need these services. And that volunteers be recruited to man the center. And that in this project West Valley College Community Services be thoroughly utilized. And that a committee composed of volunteers present at this Congress be established in order to initiate this program.

4. As Campbell progresses towards urbanity that all efforts be expanded to preserve the color, flavor and quaintness of the small Campbell community.

5. Low-income people be involved in the initial planning of these projects.

6. To utilize West Valley College to a greater extent in Job training programs, particularly in including entry Job trainees.

7. That the Campbell Chamber of Commerce continue to improve their information brochure program to the end that most citizens will become aware of the various services available in Campbell.

8. The formation of a Community Council on Housing with specific emphasis on how to organize non-profit housing projects.

E. COMMUNITY EDUCATION

Recommendations:

1. We recommend to the people and community of Campbell that they express their concern about the present inequity regarding tax structure by the local property owner and that of the state government.

2. We recommend the present trend of attention to vocational training be encouraged and expanded in our school systems.

3. We recommend that the leadership in our school system be encouraged to continually assess the relevancy of their programs.

4. We recommend that the community of Campbell maintain adquate financial support for its elementary, secondary and junior college systems.

F. YOUTH DIRECTION

Each member of the panel gave a brief overview of his opinions dealing with youth direction. These covered the necessity of communication with youth, the use of narcotics by youth, the confusion of youth in present-day society, the fact that youth does not want to take direction from its elders but should be self-directed, the need for greater participation by youth in student government.

At the conclusion of the brief overview of each panel member, other members of the group were asked to express their interest in the needs of youth.

The first question discussed was that of involvement of West Valley College students in their student government, particularly dealing with school dances and dress code.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the faculty and administration of West Valley College has excellent rapport with the students, and the students are involved in all areas of the college activities and recreational program. The group recommended that this policy be continued.

The group next discussed the use of drugs by youth. Evidence presented to the group indicated that drugs were in wide use by college students, and to a lesser degree by high school students. After much discussion, the following Resolution was passed by the group:

RECOMMENDATION:

That the intensive local education in narcotics use and the enforcement of the present laws be continued, and that the community encourage and support legitimate proposed scientific research into the present laws before the legislature changes these present laws.

The group then discussed the necessity of the involvement of youth in various youth activities in the community.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the community should make every effort to expand the activity program for the youth in the community, and also to expand job opportunities for youth within the community. A survey should be made relating to the present recreational activities within the community, and to encourage involvement by the young people in these activities. The survey should point up other needs for youth activities within the community, and efforts should be made to meet these needs.

G. PARKS AND RECREATION

Recommendations:

1. The City of Campbell adopt a Master Plan for the ultimate development of Rincon Park. This should be done as soon as possible in order that completion of individual elements of the plan may be undertaken by volunteer organization and service clubs.

2. Santa Clara County, the Santa Clara Center Flood Control district, and Cit, of Campbell continue to work toward the immediate development of the Los Gatos Creek from Vasona Park to Hamilton Avenue as a park area.

3. The City of Campbell meet with the Elementary school districts, the High school districts, and the Metropolitan Adult Education to discuss possibility of formation of a Joint Coordination Council for Community Recreation.

H. CAMPBELL'S IMAGE

Recommendations:

1. City conduct a clean sweep and beautification campaign to involve residents of all ages to be culminated by a community gathering.

2. That the city continue to meet with the Board of Trustees of the West Valley College requesting that one of the campuses of West Valley College be kept in the Campbell city limits.

3. Endorse concept of 701 study for the development of Campbell Avenue.

4. Recommend that the city advertise positive assets to bring in business.

this community.

But, on the other hand, have you a better name?

-0-

NAMES MAKE NEWS WE have been told ever since we started in this journalism field more years ago than we care to enumerate.

We recall that our college journalism prof, Dr. Paul Sheehan, (who, by the way, smarties, is still on active duty) used to emphasize the importance of using names in news stories.

And, in addition, spelling the names correctly was considered of prime importance.

We are well aware after all these years that the name "VIERHUS" is a little more difficult to spell and pronounce than say Smith or Brown.

So we are accustomed to hearing the name mispronounced and seeing it misspelled, although frankly, we have never had any trouble with it.

But we must admit that we get a wee bit provoked when someone invites us to a special affair, emphasizing that we are a "VIP" and all that sort of stuff.

And then misspells our name.

JUST RECENTLY, for example, we were invited to a special VIP dinner. The invitation specified that the purpose of the dinner was to acquaint us, "as a Very Important Person", with the importance of the firm in the future of Campbell.

Naturally we are conceited enough to appreciate the invitation and especially being designated as a "VIP".

That same week we received a special invitation from the Navy League plus the commanding officer at Moffett Field to attend a special briefing by a rear admiral at the officers club at Moffett.

It sounded like quite an affair. Admission was by invitation only and all that.

Here again the trouble was we weren't sure just where Mr. and Mrs. GEORGE ZIERHUS fitted into the picture.

Admittedly, as we said, VIERHUS is harder to spell and pronounce than say Smith or Brown.

We go along with the misspelling and mispronouncing of our name much of the time.

But there are times when we feel that perhaps a correction is in order.

As a f'instance.

For years we have served as a member of the Santa Clara County Fair Association.

And we have been issued a card annually to certify our affiliation with that august body, although we have yet to attend a meeting.

For years, also, the fair association membership card has had our name misspelled through a transposition of letters.

In the past we have accepted this as sort of a matter of course.

After all the letters were all there.

One just had to put them in their proper sequence.

But this year we got hard-nosed about it.

We sent our card back and suggested that the association correct its records i.e. we would appreciate the proper spelling of our name.

The correction was made by return mail.

Now we have a better feeling about the whole thing, as a long-time member of the fair association.

In good standing....

and spelling, we might add.

Two county civic leaders head drive for expressway

Two Santa Clara County business and civic leaders, Albert J. Ruffo and George A. Starbird, have been named co-chairmen of Citizens Against Repealing Expressways, organized to fight for the continuation of the county's expressways program.

The announcement was made by Ralph H. Mehrkens, chairman of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors.

Citizens Against Repealing Expressways (CARE) has been organized by concerned voters to oppose the measure on the June 4 primary election ballot which seeks to repeal the county ordinance which established a special vehicle license fee to finance continuation of the countywide Expressway System.

Co-chairmen Ruffo and Starbird said they will immediately begin to organize a CARE executive committee which will be representative of the profound concern among all segments of the community regarding the future of the Expressway System.

Continuation of the Expressway System is essential to the future development of this county, the co-chairmen explained.

"No financing alternatives have been offered to the local vehicle license fee," Ruffo and Starbird emphasized, "and if it is repealed one of the nation's most unique roadbuilding programs will come to an end and Santa Clara County will be left to strangle in its own traffic snarl."

They explained the maximum $10 annual vehicle license fee was selected as the most feasible and equitable method to finance continuation of this essential program.

This method redistributes the burden of payment for city-county expressways from the property taxpayer to those who actually derive direct benefit-the motor vehicle owner.

Both Ruffo and Starbird are former mayors and councilmen of San Jose and each has been involved in a wide range of civic activities.

Starbird, president of an insurance firm, was chairman of the successful 1961 bond campaign which provided the financing for the county's water importation program.

Ruffo, an attorney, is presently a Trustee and immediate past Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the California State Colleges. He is presently a Regent of the University of Santa Clara and was a former Governor of the Board of Governors of the California State Bar Association.

ness license and apparently had not used the location for business but for storage. Lyons said Stroppa had been ill.

It was agreed by all that the place had long been an eye-sore but it was felt that zone-changing wasn't the way to police it. Only Jack Healey and Ed Pack voted in favor of the zone change.

In other actions on Monday, the commission approved plans for a warehouse and offices for R.L. Dodge at 863 McGlincey Lane and for a sideyard variance for Joseph L. La Barbera at 1602 Sheffield.

Approved also was the zone change request (from M-1-S to C-2-S) for property located at White Oaks and Camden as requested by Jack-in-the-Box Development Corporation, represented at the meeting by Richard Morton, San Jose attorney, and former Campbell mayor.

next action should be by the commission.

After getting advice from City Attorney Joseph Bonacina as well as hearing from Grattan that he would like to know what he could now do under the circumstances, the motion to deny the original application was made by Pack.

The motion was carried 4-3 with the same voting alignment as in previous motion.

It was pointed out that the motion of denial allowed Grattan to submit a new zoning request that would divide the property into R-2 and R-D (duplexes) zones.

Some of the commissioners indicated that they might look with favor on such a zone split.

Ceremonies to mark Hamilton Ave. project

An important event is in the offing for the Campbell community, thanks to the efforts of the Campbell Garden Club in cooperation with the city.

Tomorrow morning (Mar. 7) at 9 a.m. a Blue Star Memorial marker will be placed at the first median strip at Hamilton and Winchester.

The entire Hamilton Ave. beautification project consisting of ground cover, eucalyptus trees and shrubs was the project of the local Garden Club. Although they are only three years old, the trees are already providing Hamilton Ave. with the appearance of an important boulevard.

Mrs. James Hartman of Campbell Garden Club announces that proper dedication ceremonies will accompany the placing of the marker, which was designated by the national council of State Garden Clubs as a project worthy of the memorial. This is the area that previously won recognition through the Sears, Roebuck and Co. Civic Improvement contest.

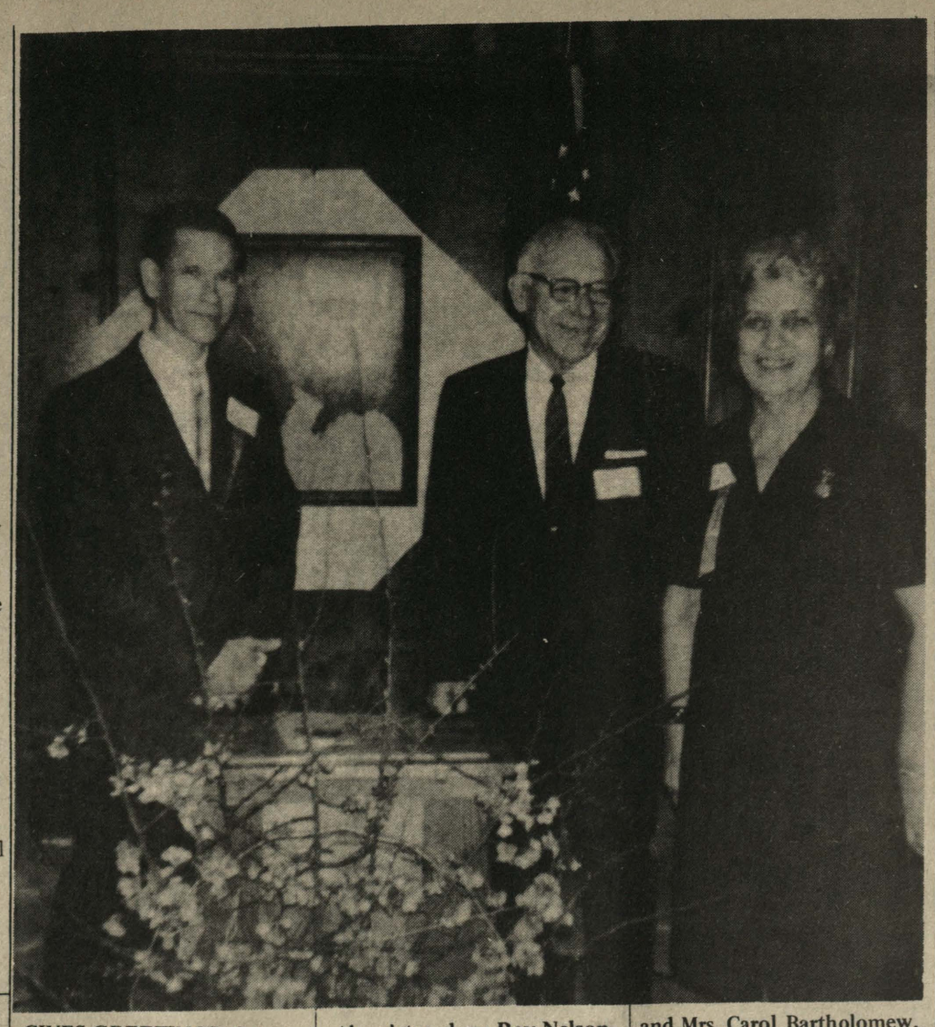
LIVING MEMORIAL

The purpose of the Blue Star Memorial is to establish a living memorial to all those who have served or will serve in the nations' armed forces. All citizens are invited to attend the ceremony.

Representatives of all branches of the service will be present. Father Charles Simpson of St. Lucy's Church will give the invocation. Mayor Edward Rogers will make the acceptance for the City of Campbell. The unveiling and dedication will be made by Mrs. Milton R. Bell, first vice president of California Garden Clubs, Inc.

Major Donald E. Keller, officer in charge of Marine Air Reserve Training, San Jose, will acknowledge the marker for all service men. Benediction will be given by the Rev. Leeds Gulick, associate minister of the Congregational Church of Campbell.

The Campbell High School Marching Band will provide musical selections.



GIVES GREETINGS–County Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens (center) brings greetings to Orchard City Grange No. 333 of Campbell and to those who attended their annual Early Settlers luncheon on Feb. 22. Also pictured are Roy Nelson, Master of the local Grange and Mrs. Carol Bartholomew, chairman of the luncheon.

Girl Scouts are selling cookies

Traditionally, March comes in like a lamb or a lion but this year it will have help–from the Girl Scouts.

Thousands of girls–Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors–will usher in the month by conducting their annual cookie sale. The cookies sell for 50 cents a box; the smiles are free.

The Girl Scout organization is a participating member of the United Fund, which provides two-thirds of its budget. The remaining one-third is in part provided by the profits of the cookie sales.

By selling cookies, the Girl Scouts themselves assume responsibility for part of the budget, part of the program, publications, professional and office services, special opportunities for girls, a free loan library and more troops to serve more girls.

So buy a box or more of magic cookies, and help spread the magic of Girl Scouting.

Los Gatos hospital breaks ground for $250,000 expansion

Ground was broken Wednesday morning, March 6, at Community Hospital of Los Gatos-Saratoga for a coronary care unit and a new pediatrics department.

A ceremony for the $250,000 expansion program, fourth since the general hospital was opened more than five years ago on Pollard road near Winchester boulevard, Los Gatos, took place at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. It was held on the site of the medical care additions, located on the north end of the hospital next to the medical wing.

Taking part in the ground breaking, in addition to hospital medical and nursing staff members and department heads, was County Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens, Mayors William Glennon and Egon Jensen of Saratoga and Los Gatos, a representative of the Bureau of Hospitals of the State Department of Public Health, hospital board members Ralph Ross and Paul Madsen and Mrs. Starr Pierce, president of the Women's Auxiliary.

Other participants in the ceremony included Frederic C. LeRocker, hospital administrator; Dr. Wallace Hall, president of West Valley College, Mrs. Duane Hedrick, director of the college vocational nursing program; Norman Sinclair, San Jose contractor for the expansion project, and representatives from Higgins and Root, Los Gatos architects for the proposed development.

Construction on both coronary care and pediatrics facilities has an Aug. 1 target date for completion, LeRocker said.

When completed, bed capacity of the hospital will be increased from 156 to 180, the administrator added.

Committee reveals reading test scores

Campbell, Cambrian and Moreland School Districts rated "above average" in reading tests scores released by the chairman of the Assembly Education Committee.

The three who rank in the top ten for first grade scores are Los Altos and Los Gatos Elementary districts, with test percentiles of 85 and 81 each, and Palo Alto Unified, with a first grade reading standing of 77.

Campbell Elementary School District's score were 49 for the first grade; 57 for third grade and 57 for sixth grade. Cambrian scores were 70, 64 and 59; Moreland scores were 68, 69 and 65.

The rankings are on a percentile basis with 50 the "Mean" at which a child would have as many persons below him as he would above. Since no district is composed of entirely good readers or bad readers, no district scores rank at the extremes.

In the past tests had been released by individual districts. San Jose Unified had a first grade reading ranking of 45, which went up to 57 in the third grade and dropped to 44 in the sixth.

School districts also test IQ (Intelligence Quotient) in both the sixth and tenth grades. Campbell Elementary District's IQ tests rated an average of 103.3; Cambrian was 104.3 and Moreland 106.2.

UF agencies in area to get $1.5 million

A total of $1,536,107 will be distributed in 1968 to United Fund agencies in the Central Area Chapter, according to Richard A. Hardy, Campbell campaign chairman.

Receiving part of the UF contributions made last fall are the Eastfield Home of Benevolence, Campbell Area Student Aid Fund, Campbell Emergency Welfare Fund and the Campbell Union High School District Student Emergency Welfare Fund.

The latter joined UF last year, and along with seven other new agencies, will be receiving UF dollars for the first time this year.

Hardy, vice president of Ainsley Corp., reported the total county allocation amounts to $2,545,534. This is due primarily to the most successful fund-raising year last fall, he said. The entire county finished six percent over goal.

The Central Area Chapter Allocations and Admissions committee met during January to decide where the UF dollars would do the most good. They were responsible for allocating money to the 61 agencies which are supported by Campbell, San Jose and nine nearby communities.

The committee, made up of community residents who volunteered their time, met with agency representatives, who presented their budgets and discussed current and planned programs for the agency.

Community needs and services available were the guidelines for the committee in reaching a decision. Being careful not to duplicate aid in certain areas, they strived for a high level of efficiency.

Local college student to receive presidential award

A West Valley College freshman, Miss Carmelita Capilla, has been notified that she has been chosen to receive a presidential citation for distinguished service.

In a letter signed by Attorney General Ramsey Clark, the nineteen year old girl was informed that she is one out of three in the nation to receive the award, "The Young Americans for Service" Medal.

Carmelita was nominated for the award by Hawaii's Governor, John A. Burns, for her volunteer service in Hawaii's State Mental Hospital. Carmelita spent many hours there, according to the letter, including week-ends and holidays, caring for the mentally ill. She conversed with the patients, wrote letters, helped to bathe, dress, cut their hair, and was called an "effective morale booster", especially for the elderly.

Carmelita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Capilla of Oahu. She is residing at 261 Dunster Dr. while attending the local junior college. In addition to her other accomplishments, she is also a shotput champion in Hawaii. She is trying out for a place on a local team.

The letter said she and her parents would be informed of the date of the awarding of the medal, and that transportation would be arranged for the family to come to Washington, D.C.

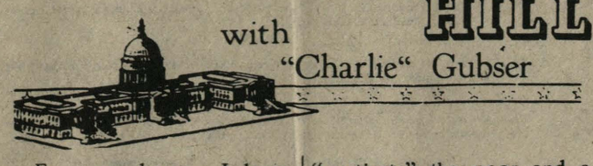
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



For several years I have been critical of some Great Society programs on grounds that they are started with very loose and helter-skelter administration and little if any planning. New programs are heaped upon old ones before the first ones are given a chance to work.

The first and most urgent priority in fighting poverty should be to train the underprivileged to hold better jobs. But as the years go by, I see a parade of new programs to "motivate" the poor and a diminishing effort to train people to hold jobs.

Congress voted the full $295 million asked by the Administration to run Job Corps centers this year. But in spite of this, sixteen recently established centers representing a capital investment of $24 million are slated to be closed! $1,265,210 had been spent on one of them, the Job Corps Center at Swiftbird, South Dakota, which is to be closed before it ever opens!

The American taxpayers have paid $11,270 per enrollee in the hastily conceived and mass-produced Job Corps centers slated for closing. By contrast, the average cost for providing a college education in a public institution is less than $3,000 per year per student.

At the present time the Neighborhood Youth Corps, which encourages potential high school dropouts to attend school part time while working at a trade, is being drastically scaled down. Even Goodwill Industries which, without government subsidy, does so much to help the handicapped to lead a full and productive life is experiencing difficulty with excessive government regulations.

All of this seems to indicate a de-emphasis of what should be the main thrust of a real poverty program–training people to hold jobs!

I have always been at a loss to understand why the most obvious, efficient and economical approach to job training has been ignored. If businessmen were offered tax incentives to provide programs to train the hard core unemployed and give them employment for at least a year, we could teach people new skills and what is more important, teach them work habits. By no means would this cost $11,000 per employee.

Mr. John Rickey, a successful hotel man and restauranteur has made a very simple and practical proposal. He suggests a federal apprenticeship program administered by unpaid volunteer retired businessmen. Under Mr. Rickey's plan a businessman would hire five percent of his work force from the unemployed. The cost of full union scale wages of a trainee for the first six months training would be split between the employer and the government. The employer would gradually pay a higher percentage and would assume the full cost at the end of a year. By that time the employee would have acquired a skill which would be a valuable asset to himself and a boost for his morale.

Mr. Rickey came to this country as an immigrant and started his professional life as a stable boy. He has risen to one of America's best known hotel men and restauranteurs. He has known what it is to be poor and to work hard.

His suggestions might do more good than a dozen federal programs spending billions on overhead and nickels on actual job training.

Two burglaries

Two burglaries were reported to Campbell police this past week-end. Rodney W. Moore, 210 Rose Ct., Apt. 2, said someone entered his first floor apartment through the sliding glass door to the patio area and made off with a 21 inch table model television set and a clock radio. The items were valued at $200, Moore said. Moore indicated nothing else was touched.

Peggy Hathaway, 35 Union Ave. reported a stereo tape player and 25 tapes were taken from her automobile parked in an open carport near her apartment on March 2. Entry was made by forcing the front wing window of the vehicle. Police are investigating.

West Valley College students win Bank of America awards

Two Campbell students, Robert Bowen and Donna Litynsky, have been named winners of the 1968 Bank of America Junior College business awards at West Valley College.

Each student will receive a $300 cash award and a certificate of merit from the bank, according to Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president.

They will be honored together with 82 other Northern California junior college students at a March 14 banquet at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel.

Bowen, 20, is an accounting major, with a 3.44 grade point average. He is employed part-time at Oltmann & Co., public accountants, was active in high school student government, and is currently residing with his new wife at 317 Kuehnis Dr., Campbell. Since being named for the award he has gone on to San Jose State College.

DONNA LITYNSKY

Miss Litynsky, 19, is a secretarial major with a 3.09 grade point average. She is presently employed part-time in the college's Business Division, and has been active in Job's Daughters. She plans to transfer to the University of the Americas in Mexico City after completing her work at West Valley College this semester. She resides at 1169 Audrey Ave. Campbell.

BIG DOINGS AT VASONA--San Jose Sailing Club will hold an "Opening Day Parade" at Vasona Lake next Sunday, March 9, at 1 p.m. when members will compete for prizes with their decorated boats. Theme for this year's parade is "Your Favorite Book". An opening day queen will be selected at the club's Saturday night potluck dinner at South Bay Yacht Club. Pictured is one of last year's entries decorated with balloons and crepe paper.

Campbell Corners

by Pat Hebard

Campbell's last varsity basketball game of the season was held Friday night with Westmont on the Warriors' court. Campbell won with a score of 84 to 67. It was a game full of spirit on both sides.

FIFTH PLACE

The Bucs have won nine games and lost seven and came in fifth place in the West Valley League Competition. Compared to last year's record of no wins the Bucs are happy with a winning season. A special thanks goes to the two coaches of the team, Coach Bert Robinson and Assistant Coach Mike Sweeney.

The Senior Ball is finally here and the class of '68 is ready for the "Midnight in Blue" at the La Rinconada Golf Club House from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. Friday, March 8.

The Mother-Daughter Tea was held last Saturday afternoon in the Girls' Gym. It lasted from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The Modern Dance Club and After-School Gymnastics provided entertainment for the mothers and daughters.

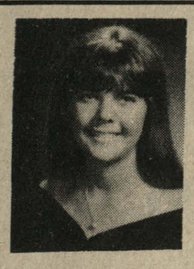
Pictures for the yearbook were taken last week of clubs and commission.

The Juniors took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last Tuesday morning. Students had to have a B average or better to take the test. There was a large turnout of college-bound juniors.

The opening of the new Prospect high school will make a large cut in Campbell's student body. Next year it is rumored that 357 Bucs will go to the new school.

The Campbell Wrestlers went to the Northern California State Championships. The whole Campbell team took ninth place. Individually Bruno Bicocca, a senior at 148 lbs., took a first in Northern California. This closes the season for wrestlers.

The coaches are Al Mathews, Bob Osborne and Paul Fudally. It was a great season for Campbell in wrestling as well as basketball.



Camden Capers

By Caren Daniels

Having fallen prey to the Varsity basketball team, Camden's men's faculty team hopes to even out their record in a game against the KLIV Prunes, to be played Thursday evening, Mar. 7, at 7:30 in the boys' gym. Having seasonal standings of 13 wins and 1 loss, the Prunes will undoubtedly present tough competition, but the faculty has been practicing long and hard, aiming for a victory.

Some of the outstanding Camden players have been Coaches Bouncing Bill Yonge, Butterfingers Bob Gatiss, Chucking -in -the -Points Charles Platt and Jumping Jim Purcell. Other helpfuls are players Filice, Dunbar, Rodriguez, Roach, Craig and Flemming.

This event, sponsored by the Ambassadors Club, is being held to raise funds to support the American Field Service exchange student from Camden. The Prunes helped raise over $10,000 for various schools last year.

A select group of vocalists from the Grace Davis High School Glee Club entertained students at the second educational assembly of the year, held Friday, March 1, in the gym. Traveling from Modesto to put on the performance, songs ranged from a Negro spiritiual to a calypso and from the romantic to contemporary era.

ACCREDITATION

Monday through Wednesday of this week have been filled with visitors and questions, as a six-man team has been evaluating the campus for accreditation purposes. The team composed of a representative of the State Board of Education, a representative of California state colleges and universities, two principals, one teacher and one superintendent of educational services, has met with Camden faculty and students.

If Camden's accreditation period is renewed, seniors will find a stamp designed on their diplomas signifying that the Western Association of Schools and Colleges recognizes Camden, and its graduates will be welcome at any California state college or university.

STRAIGHT "A'S"

Thirty-seven Camdenites received straight A's for their first semester's efforts. Leading all classes were the seniors with 14 intellectuals. Qualifying seniors were Steve Bignell, Mary Brzozowski, Kirk Cunningham, Jim Huett, Jim Larson, Joe Mugdan and Lois Nakamura. Also included are Paul Willis, Don Witek, Caren Daniels, Keith Grant, Pat Griffin, Gayle Towner and Don Weltz.

Junior straight-A'ers only numbered five, including Daryl Fazekas, Brad Reid-Selth, William Culley, David English, and Robin Hirano.

The nine sophomore brains are Lorraine Bender, Roberta Gray, Debbie Haack, Dick Bebb, Laurie Maffey, Stephen Moerbien, Pat Teverbaugh, Monte Wilson and Timothy Wood.

The frosh nine are Mike Culcasi, Gregg Darl, Dale Hudson, Gayle Larson, Pam Picone, Ann Snyder, Joel Ake, Cheryl Bohn and Sandra Inman.

SECOND PLACE

In their final game of the season, Camden's varsity hoopsters bounced over Leigh 65-48 on the home hardwood. The Cougars dominated the entire game, but the gap was kept narrow much of the game. Rick Menden and Paul Worsham were the leading scorers of the evening, with 14 points apiece. Camden ended up in league standings tied for second place.

— Del Mar Dateline —

by Glenda Vitale

For the second year in a row, Del Mar has grasped the WVAL basketball championship, with a record of 10-3. The last game of the season was held Friday with Los Gatos, which marked the tenth win. The Dons will now go on to meet Piedmont Hills this weekend, as they compete in the C.C.A.

SPORTS BANQUET

The annual Winter Sports Banquet was held last night, with many awards and letters being awarded to the top athletes in basketball and wrestling.

The Del Mar clubs are holding another fund-raising project to raise money for new Band uniforms. Boxes of candy at $1 each and chocolate almond bars are 50 cents apiece will be sold all around the school until March 11.

This is the week that Seniors have waited four years for --the Senior Ball takes place Friday, from 9 to 12 at the Cabana. La Soir d'Amour is the theme, which is French for "The Night of Love". The after-ball party will take place at the Starlight Room from 1-4. Bids have been on sale for the past few weeks, and will be sold this week also. The cost is $5 for the party and $5.50 for the Ball.

Del Mar Sports

by Ed Gibson

Defending league champion Del Mar held onto its basketball title for another year by downing Los Gatos 71-62 last Friday. The Don's varsity swimming and track teams opened their 1968 seasons with wins, while the golf team lost their opener.

Bob Lee with 19 points led the basketball Dons to victory in the final league game of the season. With the Los Gatos victory, the Dons are 13-3 for the season, while second place Blackford, Camden and Branham sport 12-4 records.

Hugh McCain with 18, Don Transeth 13, Todd Martin 12, Loren Toews 9, also added to the Dons' effort. Other members of the championship team include Tom Casey, Tom Rasch, Doug Craig, Morry Limeseader, Rick Patton, Bruce Posey, Steve Weins, Bill Rickers and John Crayton.

TRACK MEET

In the first track meet of the season, Del Mar upended Campbell 99½ to 36½. Sprinter Dale Phillips was instrumental in the win, taking firsts in the 100 and 220 and sharing one in the 440 relay.

All-Americans Dave Shilling and Glen Schank led Del Mar to its first swimming victory of the year, against Andrew Hill.

Jim Dow was the sole point gainer for Del Mar in the team's loss to Del Mar.

Coming up on the Del Mar sports calendar this week are tennis and baseball with Santa Cruz at Del Mar tomorrow, swimming and track with Leigh on Friday, and the Peninsula Basketball Tournament also on Friday.

Auditions being held for teen battle of bands

The Fender Battle of the Bands, held nationally at Teen-Age Fairs, is now accepting applications by local Bay Area rock groups who will compete this year at the Teen-Age Fair at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds April 5-14.

A screening board will audition groups on Sunday, Mar. 17, at the new Paladium Club in Santa Clara and select at least 60 or more of the top groups who compete in the continuous Battle of the Bands each day of the 10 day Fair.

The Fender Company, a division of CBS Musical Instruments, will present a $400 merchandise award and a huge trophy to the winners who will also receive a $150 grant from Teen-Age Fair.

Generous second and third prizes will also be awarded.

Those desiring to enter the contest may obtain applications by calling the Teen-Age Fair office, 378-4420. Deadline for entries for the audition is March 14.

Coyote loses again in PG & E kite booklet

Beep, beep.

Wiley E. Coyote, an admitted science drop-out from Cactus College, gets a kite-making and kite safety lesson from the elusive and impossible-to-catch Road Runner in the 1968 edition of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's kite fun booklet.

As always happens, the Coyote comes out second best when it comes to twisting his new-found knowledge for the purpose of outwitting his perennial nemesis, the Road Runner of the popular comic cartoon series.

Like preceding Kite Safety booklets, this year's edition is both educational and entertaining for youngsters or their parents who may aid them in building their kites.

The comic book story and kite-making layouts are supplemented by puzzle and game features of interest to boys and girls.

The full-color booklet is available free at all PG&E offices. Copies may be obtained in quantity by school or youth groups.

These safety rules are emphasized in the booklet:

Never fly a kite near radio or TV antennas.

Never cross a street or highway while flying a kite.

Never fly a kite with metal in the frame or in the tail.

Never use tinsel string or any twine with metal in it.

Never fly a kite in the rain.

Never fly a kite near electric power lines.

Never pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged kite.

Never touch a fallen electric wire.

If you're a Coyote, never try to get the best of a Road Runner.

FLIGHT BRIEFING--The latest edition of Pacific Gas and Electric Company's kite fun booklet is the reason for the smiles on the faces of Katie Sheehy, 8, and brothers Chuck Figone, 8 (left), and Rick Figone, 10, PG&E's Lew Mezirka joins in checking the safety pointers in the comic book story featuring Wile E. Coyote and the elusive Road Runner. Mezirka and the youngsters are from San Rafael. The booklets are available free at PG&E offices.

Letters to the Editor

Jaycees deserve better

EDITOR'S NOTE: As proud as the staff of The Campbell Press was over the 30-page progress edition, the largest in the history of this newspaper, there were a few oversights.

For example, in the section on service clubs, there was nothing about the Campbell Jaycees, one of the most active community-minded organizations ever to hit the local scene.

We are sorry for this oversight and assure our friends the Jaycees that it was unintentional.

We are pleased to publish the following letter from Don King, president of the Jaycees, for the club really has a legitamate beef. The letter calls attention to our oversight and describes some of the many activities engaged in by the Jaycees.

–G.V.

Dear George:

On behalf of the Campbell JayCees, I would like to congratulate you on your fine "Progress Edition" of Feb. 21. However, as President of the Campbell JayCees, I was disappointed to note that in commenting on Campbell's various service clubs you failed to mention the JayCees. Although we are a relatively new organization and our membership is small, having ranged from 15 to 30 members, we have in three and one-half years made a significant contribution to the community.

In the area of youth and sports we promoted and organized a welcome home parade for the Moreland Little League 1964 National Championship ball team, sponsored a Junior Golf program having had one local boy win the state competition and compete nationally and another place seventh in the state the following year. We held annual children's Christmas parties (while the theater was available), conducted a Teenage Safe Driving Rodeo sending our winners to the state competition in which the girl and boy placed seventh and fourth, respectively. Currently we are, with the assistance of Police Chief John Morgan, distributing bicycle safety brochures to school children and, in conjunction with the Optometric Society, conducting a program of screening preschool children to detect visual problems.

In the area of Health and Safety we have conducted Seat Belt Clinics, Auto Safety Checks, sponsored Safety Flare Sales and painted safety slogans at the major intersections of Campbell.

We also sponsored Chief Morgan's fine program of Public Police Education and supported the citizens' efforts to have a pedestrian overcrossing constructed at San Tomas Expressway and Rincon Avenue. Another major project in the area was our effort to promote the fluoridation of the local water supplies.

In the area of Community Development we conducted a very well received Christmas Tree Pickup project, held a Vietnam Day Blood Drive, donated and erected the flag pole at City Hall and are conducting a project the object of which is to have an American Flag flying in front of each place of business in the community each holiday. We sponsored two Miss Campbell Pageants, assisted in the Old Settlers Days Celebrations and have since conducted our Annual Spring Fiesta.

We endorsed and supported the concept of a park at Camden Avenue and Los Gatos Creek and built the small park at Campbell and Harrison Avenues. We collected for United Fund and contributed to such groups as the Cancer Foundation and Historical Society. We assisted in both Congresses for Community Progress, having provided two members of the Steering Committee and provided the support of eight members attending and taking an active part in the discussions. We also endorsed and supported, financially and with manpower, last year's successful bond issues, and have endorsed and supported the County ($10) vehicle license fee.

We conducted a Salute to Local Government week program culminating in a banquet in honor of representatives, not only of our city, but those of twelve neighboring cities.

We have just completed our First Annual Distinguished Service Award project which honored four outstanding young Campbell men nominated by local organizations and culminated in a banquet at which The Most Outstanding Young Man was announced by an independent panel of judges. He will be entered in statewide competition later this year.

The Campbell JayCees are currently working on such projects as construction of the City name on the West bank of Los Gatos Creek to be visible from Highway 17 and helping to identify Campbell, remodeling the Service Club sign at Campbell Avenue and Winchester Boulevard and the designing and erection of entryway signs at the City limits to further identify and improve the image of our community.

We are working, also, on a voter registration drive, another Teenage Safe Driving Rodeo, a playground project for Eastfield Home and are assisting our JayCettes in their Block Parent Project.

There have been and will be many other projects for the betterment of Campbell performed by the Campbell JayCees. For those of your readers who feel as I do that this type of active organization is beneficial to the community and offers an opportunity to its members to become truly invovled in the community, I would like to say we will happily welcome into our membership any young man between the ages of 21 and 35.

For information call 246-1619.

Very truly yours,
Donald J. King, President
Campbell JayCees

P.S. This was not written with out the realization that the press has been a real friend of the JayCees. This week's issue (published after writing of this letter) is a case in point. Though you may term my interest "selfish" I ask who should express concern?

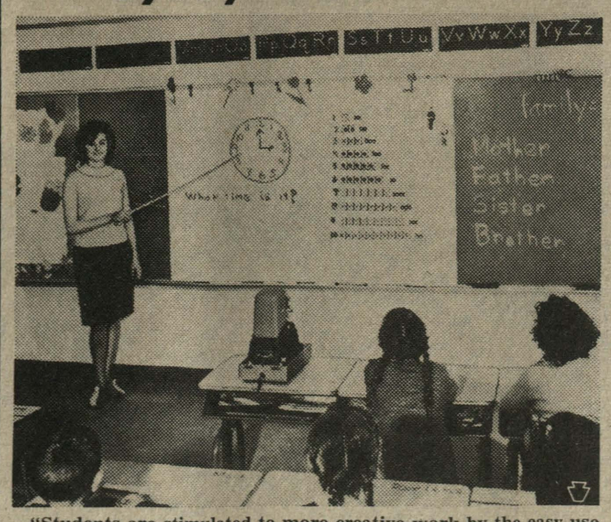
Police Chief speaks tonight

Campbell Police Chief John D. Morgan and County Juvenile Officer Frank Gomez will lead a discussion for parents on narcotics and youth tonight (Mar. 6) in room 14 at Los Gatos High School.

The meeting is sponsored by the Los Gatos Adult Edcation program and is open to all interested adults at no charge. The lecture will center around the dangerous drug problem of high school age youth in the West Valley area.

Bye Bye Blackboard



"Students are stimulated to more creative work by the easy use of color. It also makes identification of letters easier," says Mrs. Connie Emshwiler, teacher in Okemas, Michigan.

Millions of American school children may soon wonder what black boards were. Their teachers will be writing in colors on a white, glare-free surface, using a new device which many believe has vast implications for education.

It is well known that advertising in color attracts more attention and is more persuasive than black and white. Attracting attention and persuading are strongly analogous to the process of teaching. In the words of one educator, "if writing on a black board with chalk were the way to communicate, we'd be writing with white pencils on black paper today."

The new device, the Eberhard Faber-Board visual aid panel is a four way communications device now being introduced nationally. It is used for writing with color markers, as a magnetic board, art board and projection screen. Combining these four features in one simple panel, says the manufacturer will help students learn faster, and also result in significant savings to schools.

One university is using the panel not only far motion picture projection, and color writing, but as a giant display panel and scoreboard for swimming meets.

During a year-long experimental program, the new panel has also brought color graphics to courtrooms, business conference rooms, and police academies. A computer programmer reported "the use of color on the panel to key input, output and interim procedures in flow charts greatly simplifies computer programming techniques."

"Grey is the color of all theory," wrote Goethe, the German philosopher-poet. Not so today. Color it bright!

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON YOUTH OPPORTUNITY

West Valley College emphasizes vocational-education classes

This is "Industrial-Education Week," designated by a concurrent resolution of the State Legislature, and Dr. Albert J. Riendeau, Dean of Vocational-Technical Education at West Valley College thinks considerable importance should be attached to it.

Dr. Riendeau, who has achieved wide recognition in the field of Vocational-Technical Education and has served on national vocational education committees and as advisor to foreign countries, emphasized the growing importance of industrial education.

"We are, through our trade-technical classes, providing our students with marketable skills that will allow them to be gainfully employed upon completion of the program-normally a two-year course," he said.

"Not only does our vocational education program at West Valley College provide students with earning and more important, purchasing power, it also builds confidence in these young people and allows them to become valuable citizens contributing to society.

Since 1963, he said, when the Vocation Education Act was approved, enrollment in these job-oriented programs, now provided by most junior colleges, has increased from 450,000 to 1,000,000 students.

The two-fold program aids the working adult seeking to upgrade his skills, and provides opportunity for students to learn a skill, thus preparing them for immediate employment.

Dr. Riendeau said that while "vocational education isn't the only answer to the unemployment problem, it is a major step in the right direction, and serves as a means of rescuing what he calls the "potential dropout"."

The West Valley College program covers such areas as business, health, home-making, industry and a wide variety of services. New programs initiated recently include x-ray technician, medical record technician and food catering courses. Additional programs are constantly being added, he said.

Rodriguez ends cooling study

George Rodriguez of Campbell has completed a thorough course in air conditioning theory and procedures conducted by Day & Night Manufacturing Company at the City of Industry, California.

Rodriguez is the president of the County Sheet Metal Inc., 150 Harrison Avenue Campbell.

The company merchandises Day & Night heating and air conditioning products.

Upon finishing the course, he received a "Certificate of Completion" which, according to Training Director Donald R. Starin, "indicates that he has mastered an intensive program of specialized knowledge and is fully qualified as an expert in the air conditioning field."

Rodriguez lives at 1292 McBain Ave., Campbell.

Three lawmakers sponsor confab

San Francisco will play host to an Air Safety Conference, Friday, March 22, Representatives Charles S. Gubser. Paul N. McCloskey and William S. Mailliard have announced. Today the three bay area Congressmen are co-sponsoring the one day meeting.

The 1968 San Francisco Air Safety Conference will explore the entire field of flight safety. "Air Safety is of great concern to all of us, but has received relatively little publicity in the past," the three lawmakers said. "It is our hope that this Conference will highlight some of the problems of Air Safety and point out areas that might require additional Congressional study and legislative action."
